I believe that inside of each one of us lives a healer.

I believe that this healer speaks with the intention of Love and from the collective Soul of All Things. Thus, our heart has the divine right to speak and be heard first as a feeling, above all other thoughts.

I believe that life conditions us to quiet this intuitive voice in favor of a rational mind that seeks to confuse our heart's desires with ingrained habits for second thoughts and excessive analysis.

After all, what is...is what is. Truth is in how we feel. How we feel, is how we feel no matter the second thoughts that attempt rationalization.

So what energetic purpose is served by placing our most precious emotions on internal trial, such that they need the justification of the rational mind? For it is these very emotions, that once spoken from the heart, have the unique gift of leading us to happiness...of making our decisions in life simple.

After all, what could be more rational than leading with Love in all our endeavors? Is there any other emotion that makes more sense? What is more essential to happiness, joy, and satisfaction in life than Love?

I believe that within each of us lives the hope for a better future for not only ourselves, but especially for our families yet to come. A future free from manipulative deceit, abuse, greed and cast judgments. A future exists that neither entertains tactics of fear nor consoles apathy. A future that feels the way our first voice describes life to us, filled with excitement, promise, and goodwill. A future that we can all participate in and be proud of what we have created together.

For this vision to manifest we must listen to the healer within us for guidance and ultimate delivery.

From Many Comes One. One Love is our destiny. One Love of Each Other. One Love of our Home, Mother Earth.

The time has come for us to elevate our consciousness as One People to this pursuit.

Humanity's greatest energy is our collective ability, beating as One Heart, to embrace Love no matter the obstacle.

I believe the greatest energy always prevails.

Together, the Healer within each of us will be this greatest energy.
